DEPARTMENT DESCRIPTION
The Department of Management and Marketing at Grove City College develops high caliber, ethical leaders equipped with the technical and theoretical business skills to excel in a wide range of industries and professions. Whether pursuing a degree in Management, Marketing, or International Business, students are prepared to solve complex business problems through coursework in global business, quantitative business analysis, finance, and accounting. Graduates of the program understand the connection between U.S. business and the global economy and are highly competitive for a variety of business careers or entry into graduate or professional programs.

MAJORS
B.S. in Management
This is a 67 credit hour program that combines 43 credit hours of business core requirements, nine credit hours of management concentration courses, and 15 hours of management concentration courses in addition to the College core curriculum. Students choose one of three management concentrations: human resources, operations, or entrepreneurship and are encouraged to earn academic credit through internships.

B.S. in Marketing
This is a 67 credit hour program that combines 43 credit hours of business core requirements, 12 credit hours of marketing concentration courses, and 12 credit hours of marketing electives in addition to the College core curriculum. The marketing core offers specialized instruction in marketing research, strategic marketing, consumer behavior, and sales management. Students are encouraged to earn academic credit through internships.

B.S. International Business
The Bachelor of Science degree in international business requires 82 credit hours of international business coursework in addition to the College core curriculum. Students choose a business concentration in accounting, management, economics, entrepreneurship, finance, or marketing as well as a foreign language concentration in Chinese, French, or Spanish. The program focuses on the international context of business and is designed to prepare students for participation in worldwide business activity.

B.S. in Business Analysis
This 66-68 credit hour program that combines 39 credit hours of business and economics core requirements, 18 credit hours of business analysis major core courses, and 9-11 hours of management concentration courses in addition to the College core curriculum.

B.S. in Business Statistics
This 67-70 credit hour program that combines 46 credit hours of business, computer and math core requirements, 12 credit hours of business statistics major core courses, and 9-12 hours of concentration courses in addition to the College core curriculum.
